

The free Infosound information service for vision-impaired people

Infosound, a registered charity and professional audio producer, provides a free and impartial information service specifically for blind and partially-sighted people in Great Britain.

They cover a very broad range of subjects, such as daily-living products, leisure and holidays, hobbies and sport, mobility and travel, housing, employment and training, money and consumer issues, support services, news stories and events. Many items are relevant to the whole of Great Britain, others focus on more local topics in Wales, Scotland and England.

Infosound presents this information as a round-the-clock rolling audio magazine broadcast but also as an on-demand service, where listeners can choose which audio features they want to hear.

Infosound can be heard on many smart speakers, any landline or mobile phone, on the Infosound mobile-friendly web site, on specialist audio players (like Bumblebee and In Your Pocket), as a podcast and via Twitter.

And vision-impaired people and service providers are encouraged to phone-in to contribute their own hints, tips, items of news and information and comments for other blind and partially-sighted people to hear.

To find out more, or to listen, you can phone Infosound on 03000 111 555 or visit the Infosound web site at www.infosound.org.uk.
