

The free Infosound information service for blind and partially-sighted people in Great Britain

Infosound – professional producers of news and information, in audio, specifically for blind and partially-sighted people – provides a free news and information service for anyone in Great Britain who lives with sight loss.

Infosound covers a very broad range of subjects, such as daily-living products, leisure and holidays, hobbies and sport, mobility and travel, housing, employment and training, money and consumer issues, support services, news stories and events. And vision-impaired listeners can phone-in to contribute as well.

Infosound presents its news and information as audio articles, all of which can be found in their audio library, which is kept frequently-updated and which can be heard on any landline or mobile phone, online, on the British Wireless for the Blind Sonata Internet audio players, as a podcast and via Twitter (@Infosound).

To find out more, or to listen, you can phone the Infosound library on
